

Mudra

नेत्र

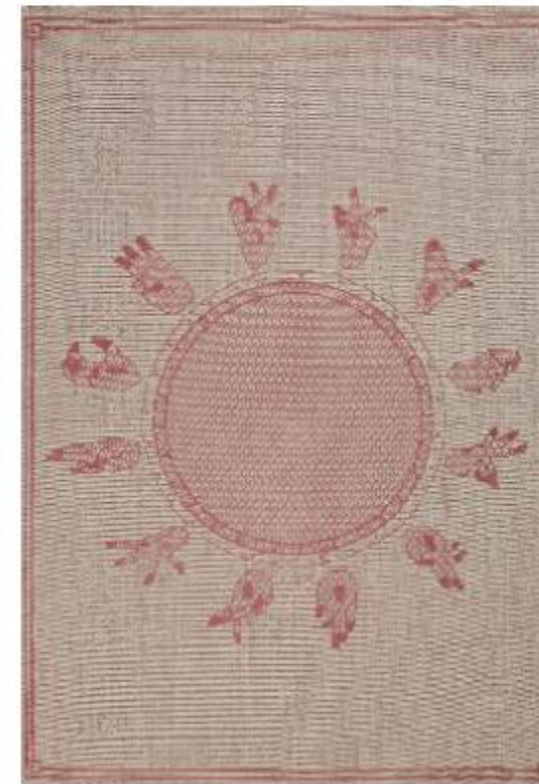

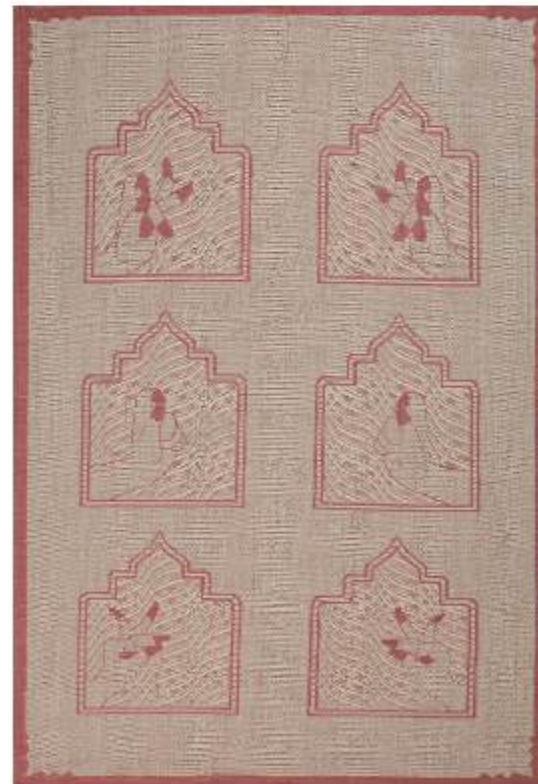

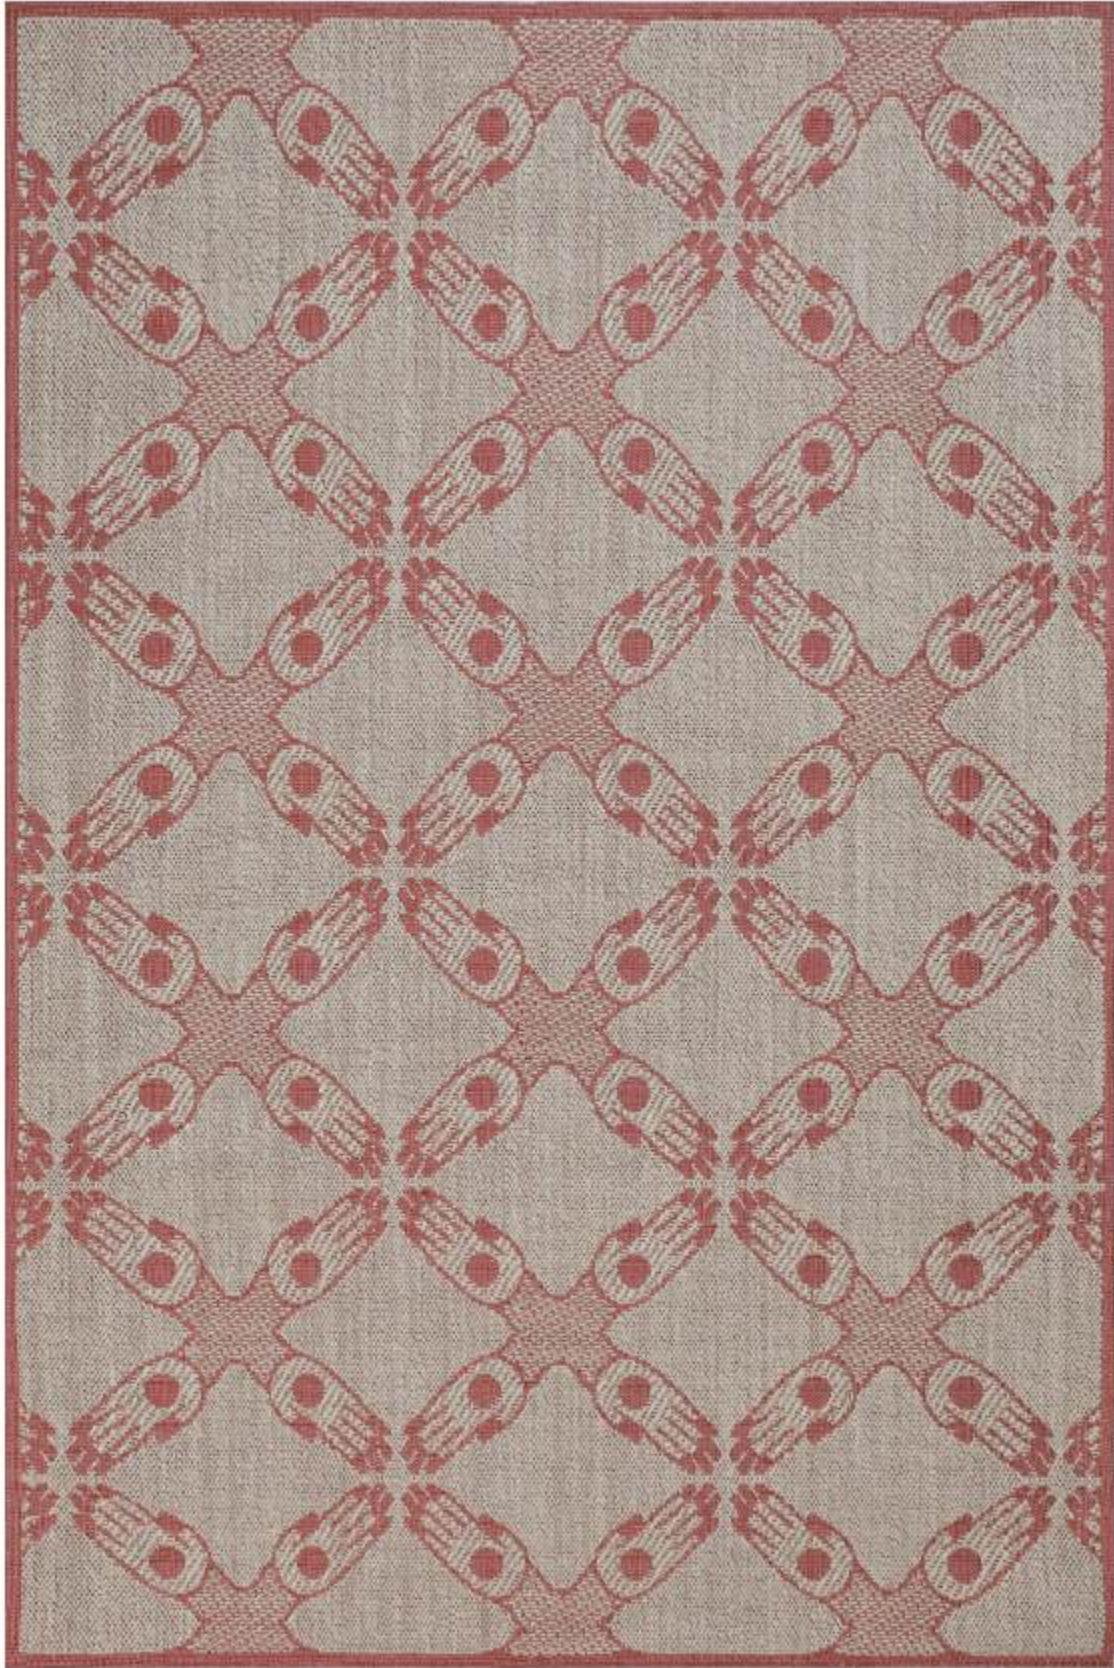

ABOUT THE COLLECTION

The Mudra Collection is inspired by the language of Indian classical dance, where each gesture holds meaning. Every rug translates these hand signs and postures into woven form — symbols of creation, unity, devotion, and light. Together, they capture a journey from the personal to the cosmic, turning spaces into stages where tradition, art, and spirit come alive.

Mudra

Ekam

34,921/-

Made with 100% Sisal

Colour : Beige & Red

Size : 5ft X 8.5ft

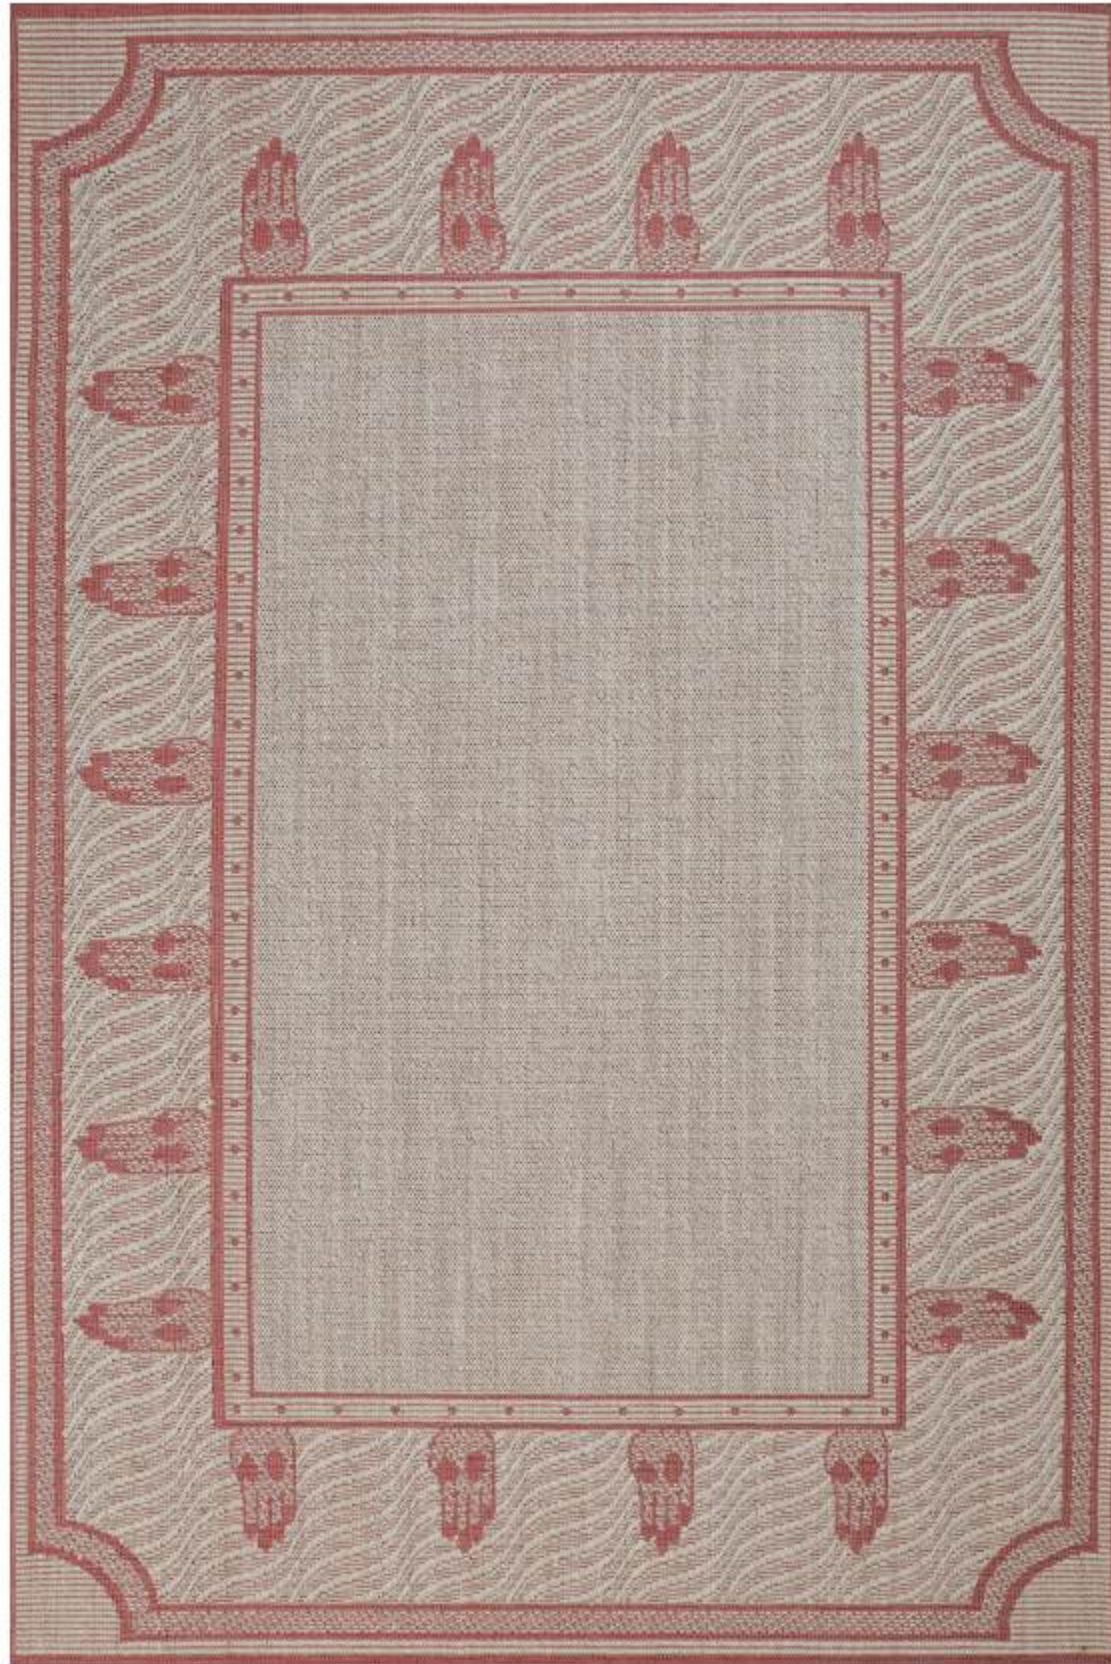

Technique : Jacquard

Thickness : 5 mm

Ekam, meaning oneness, embodies harmony through the Pataka mudra, known as the King of Mudras. The repeating, interlaced hands mirror a seamless rhythm — where gestures flow into one another without beginning or end. Symbolizing unity and balance, the rug becomes a meditative space where movement and meaning merge as one

Karunika

46,120/-

Made with 100% Sisal

Colour : Beige & Red

Size : 5.9ft X 9.8ft

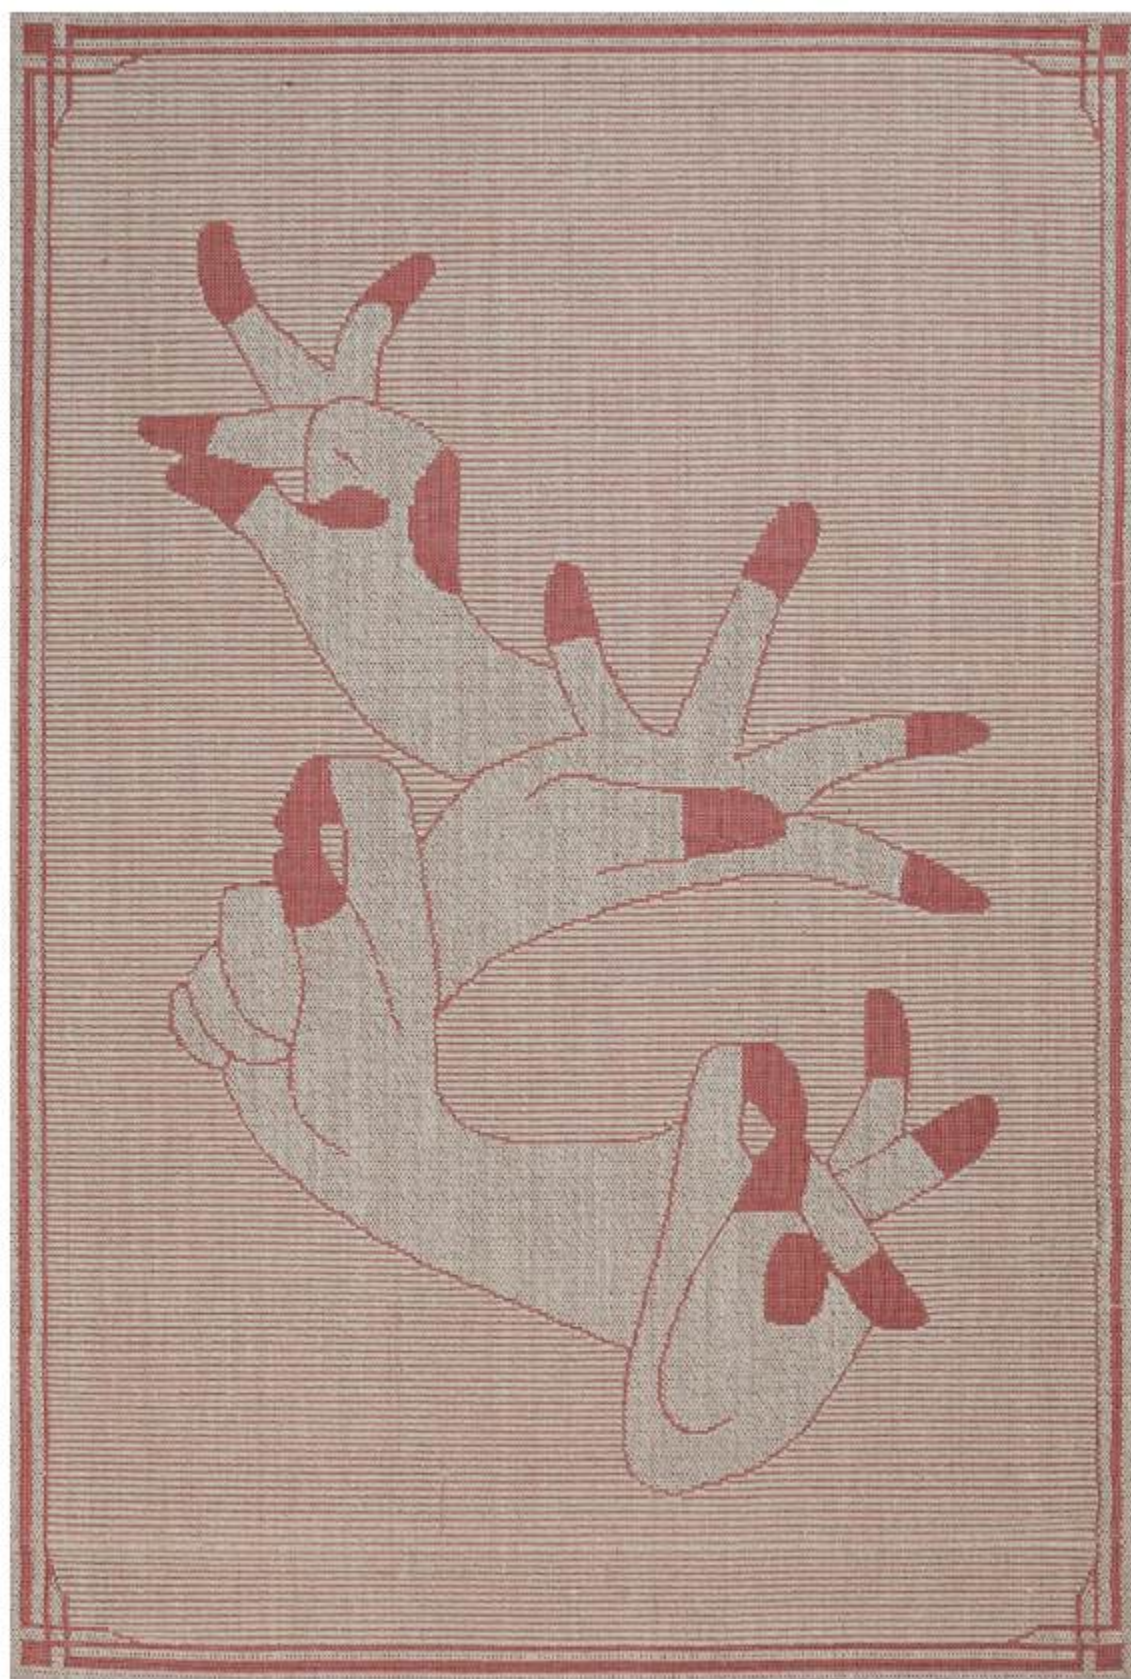

Technique : Jacquard

Thickness : 5 mm

Karunika, meaning compassionate, celebrates the Pataka mudra, the King of Mudras in Indian classical dance. The design frames this gesture of blessing, dignity, and protection into an embracing border, while the calm central field invites openness and storytelling. A rug that shelters with grace, it transforms space into a stage of compassion and presence

Kathanika

37,933/-

Made with 100% Sisal

Colour : Beige & Red

Size : 5.4ft X 8.7ft

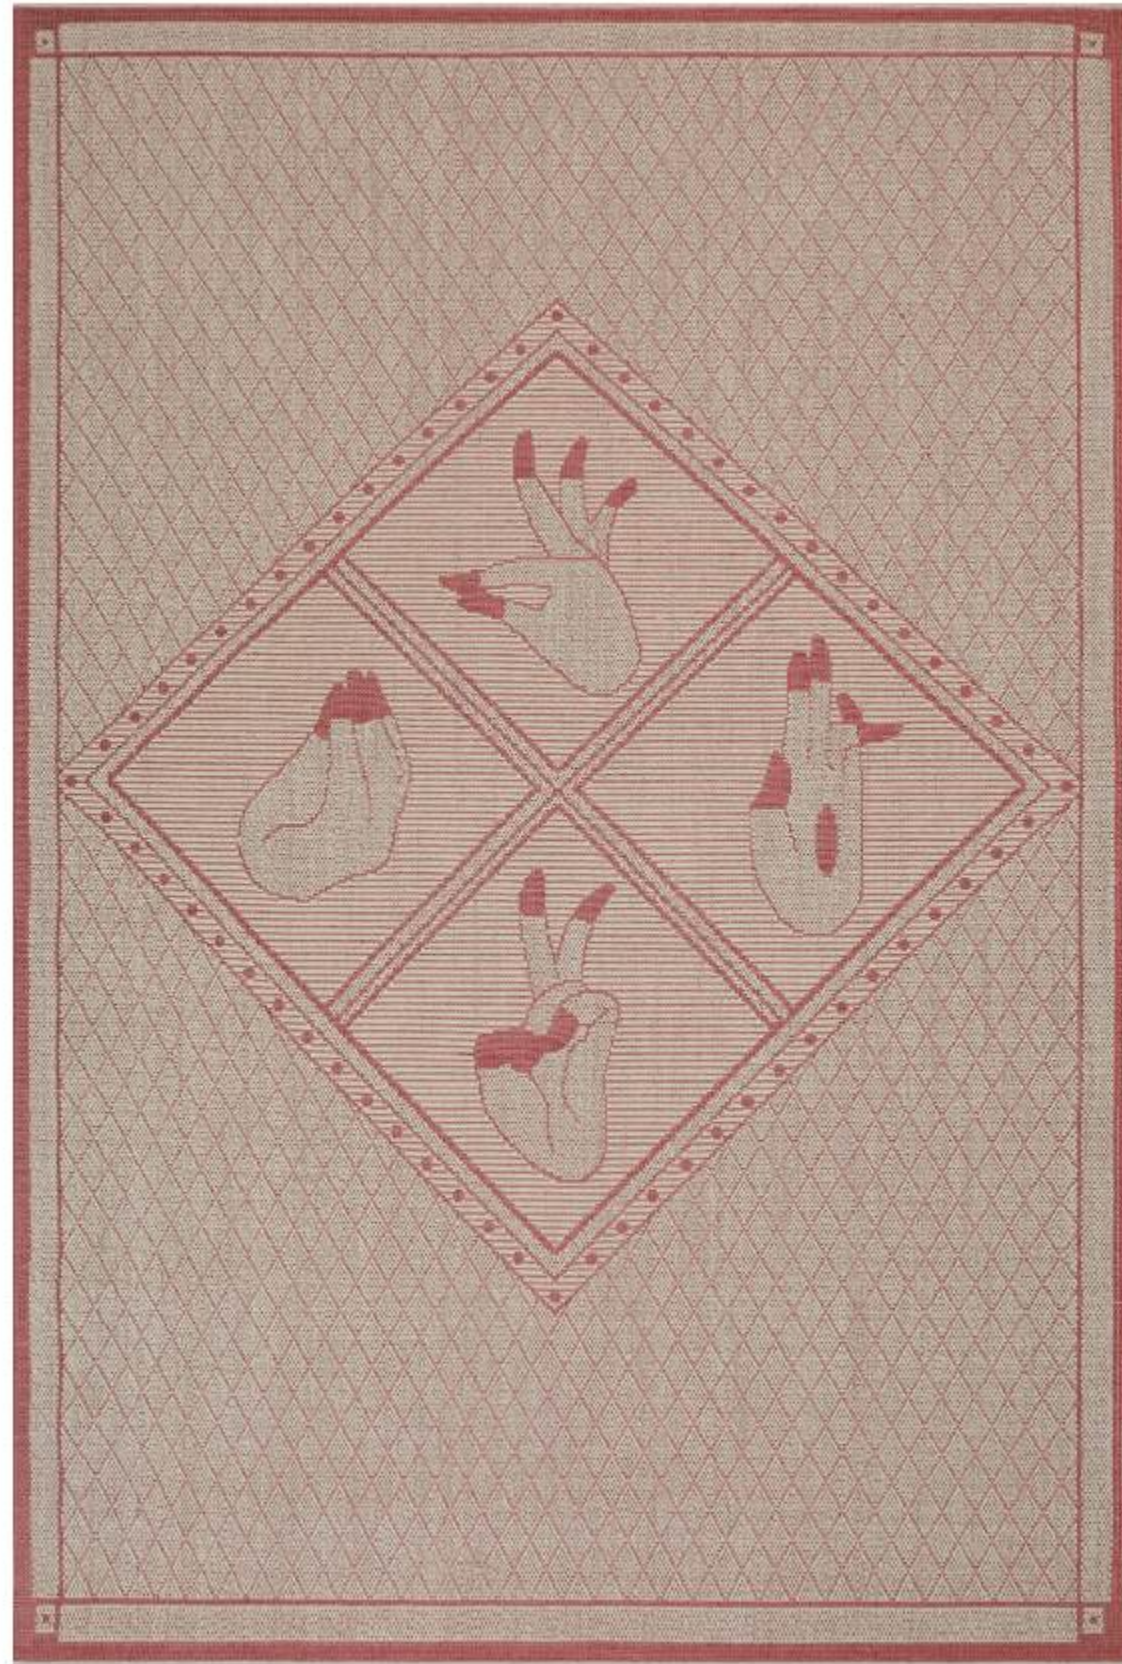

Technique : Jacquard

Thickness : 5 mm

Kathanika, meaning storyteller, captures the poetry of Indian classical dance through sweeping mudras woven into the surface. From the bee and lotus to gestures of offering and ceremony, each motif is a verse in a larger story. The rug becomes a living performance—where devotion, grace, and rhythm flow into art

Mayuram

42,660/-

Made with 100% Sisal
Colour : Beige & Brown
Size : 6ft X 9ft
Technique : Jacquard
Thickness : 5 mm

Mayuram, named after the Sanskrit word for peacock, celebrates the elegance and storytelling power of Indian classical dance. Framed by mudras that evoke nature, feathers, and monsoon drama, the rug narrates the peacock's dance, graceful, regal, and alive with emotion. A symbol of the dancer's own artistry, it transforms tradition into movement and beauty

Nadanam

42,660/-

Made with 100% Sisal

Colour : Beige & Red

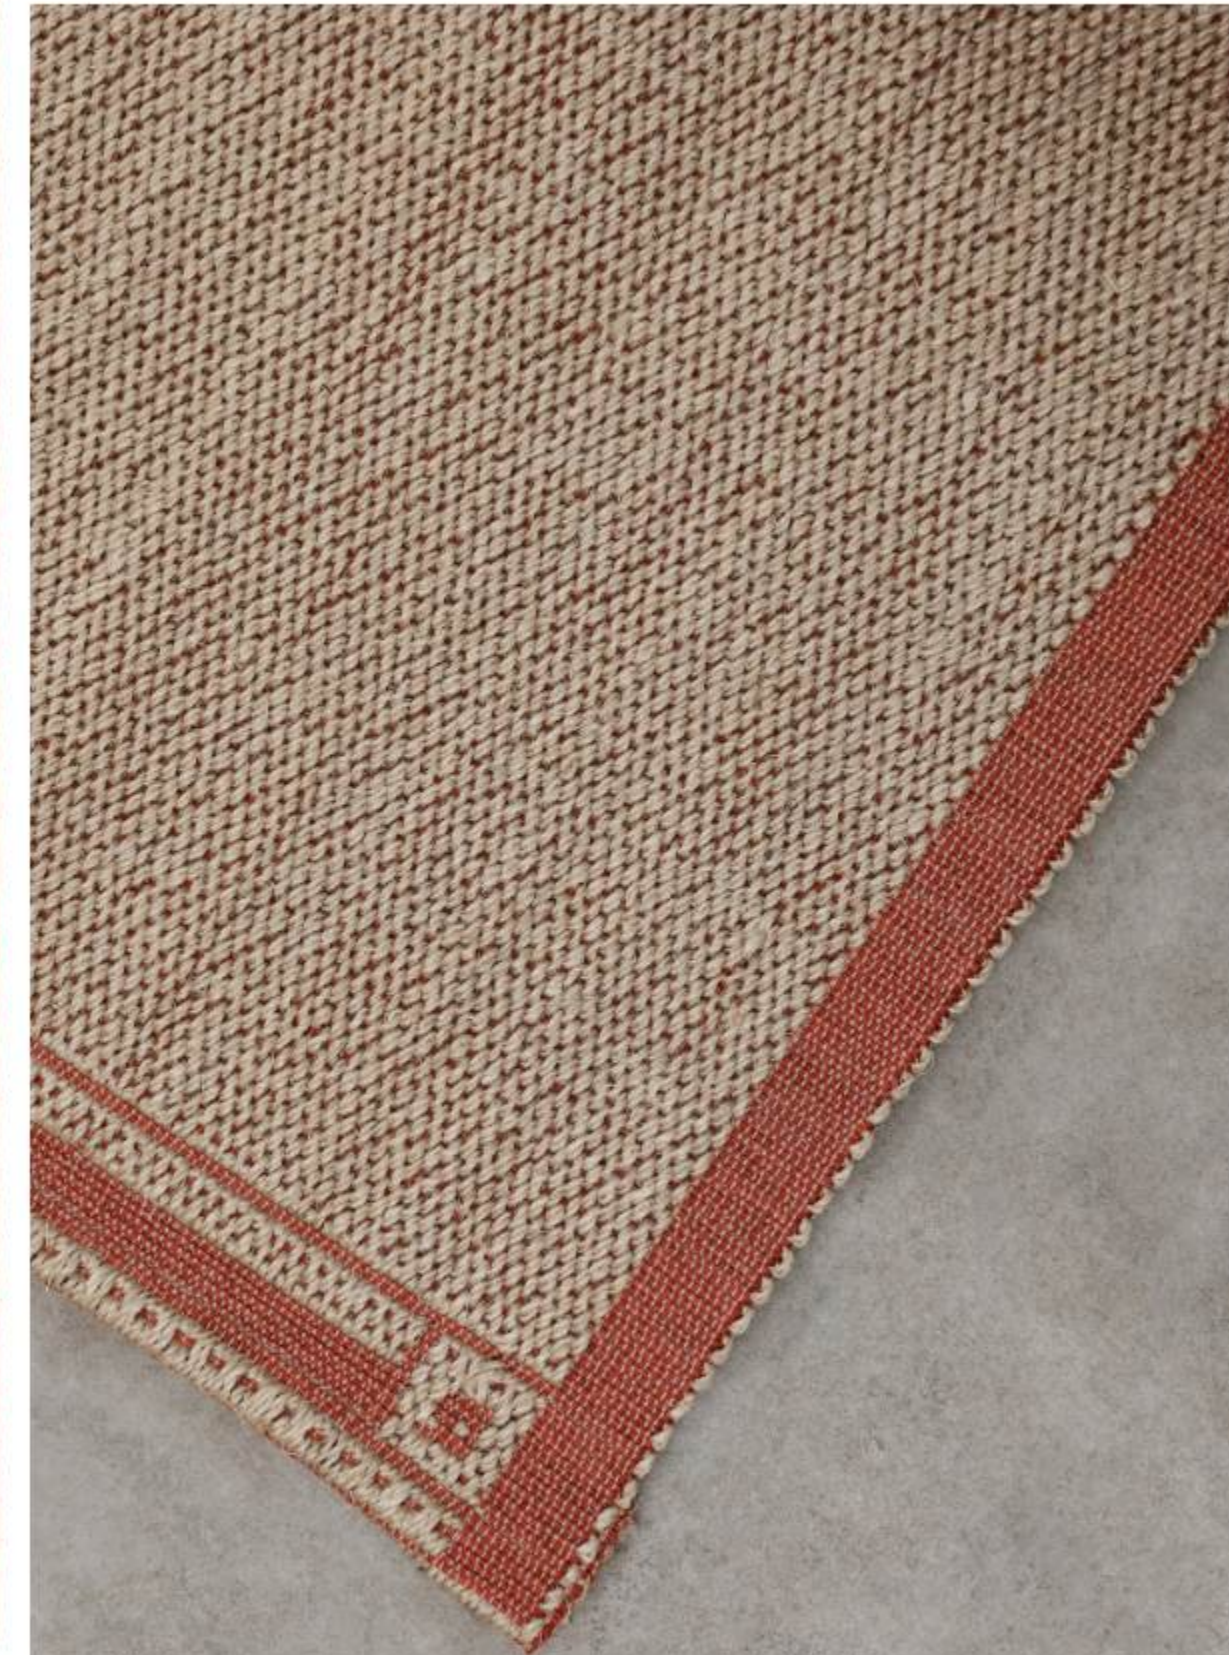

Size : 6ft X 9ft

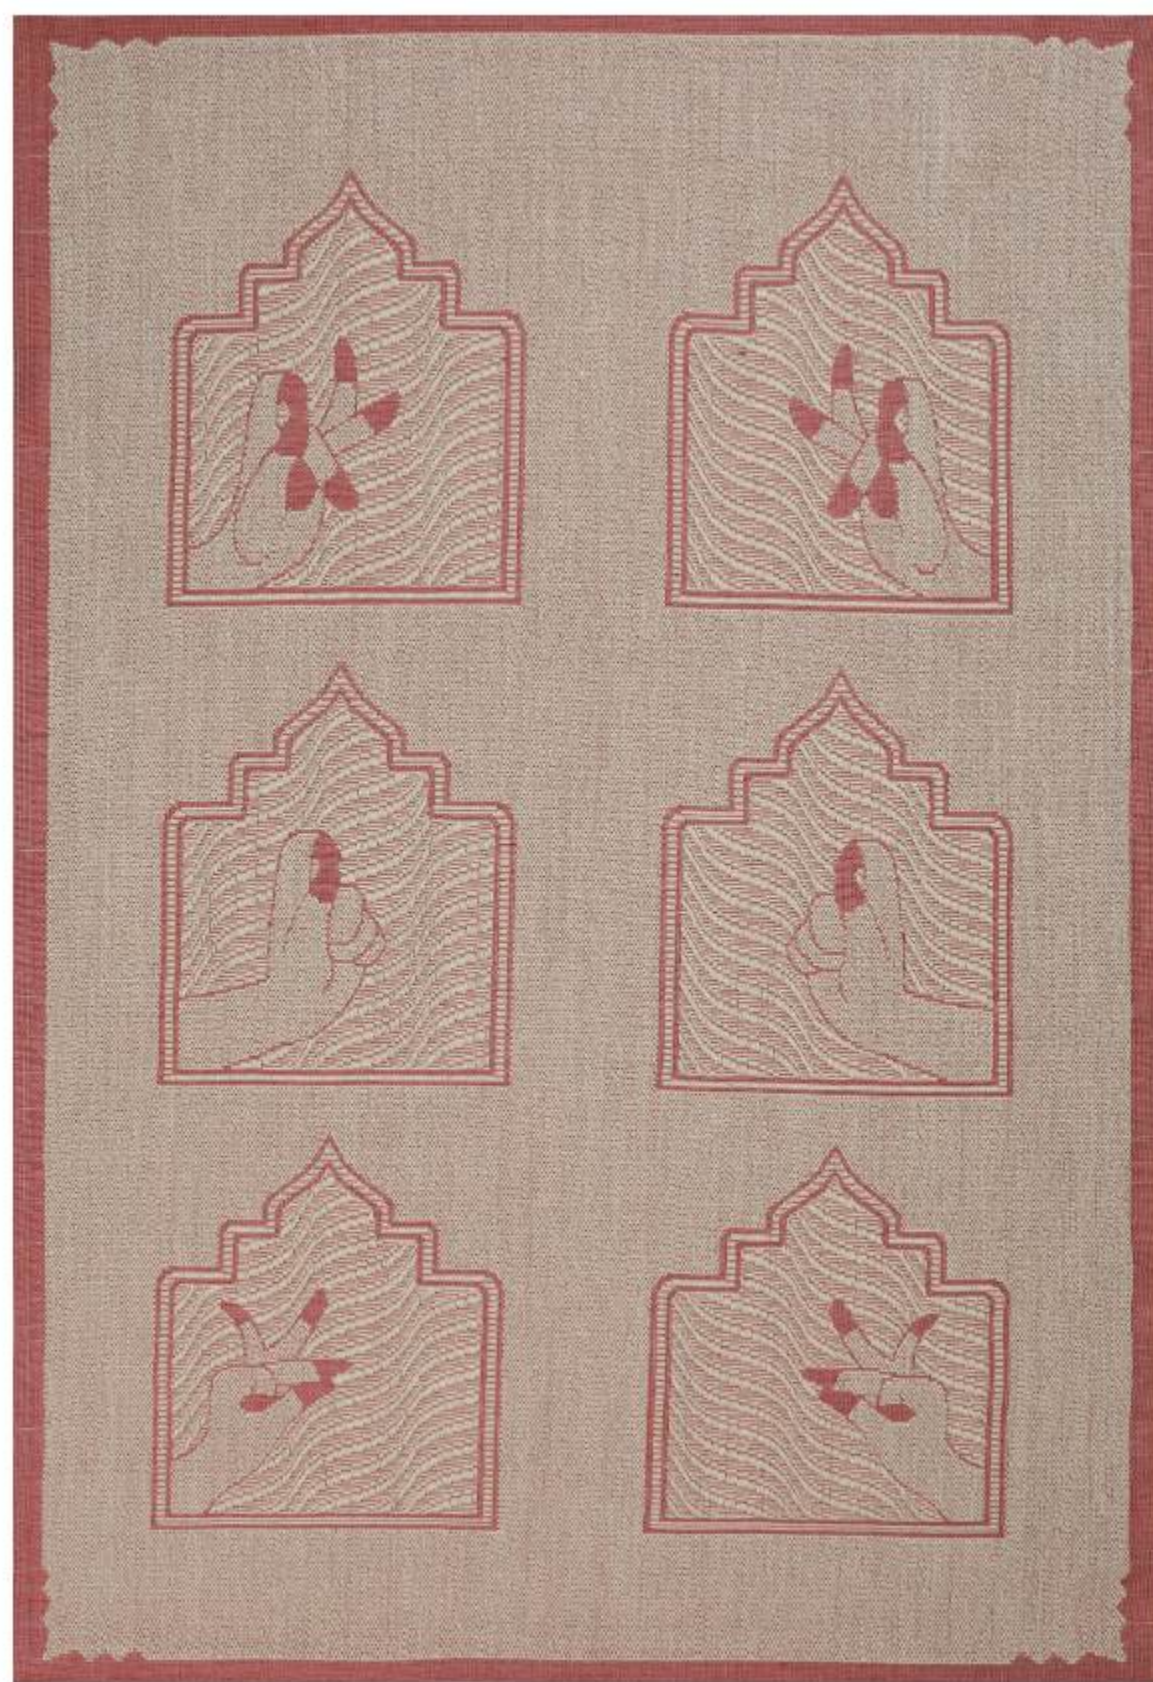

Technique : Jacquard

Thickness : 5 mm

Nadanam, meaning the dance, honors the cosmic rhythm of Nataraja, Shiva as the Lord of Dance. The rug embodies creation, preservation, and dissolution, the eternal cycles of the universe, transforming any space into a sacred stage where the rhythm of life and dance flows beneath every step

Nattyam

45,116/-

Made with 100% Sisal

Colour : Beige & Red

Size : 5.10ft X 9.4ft

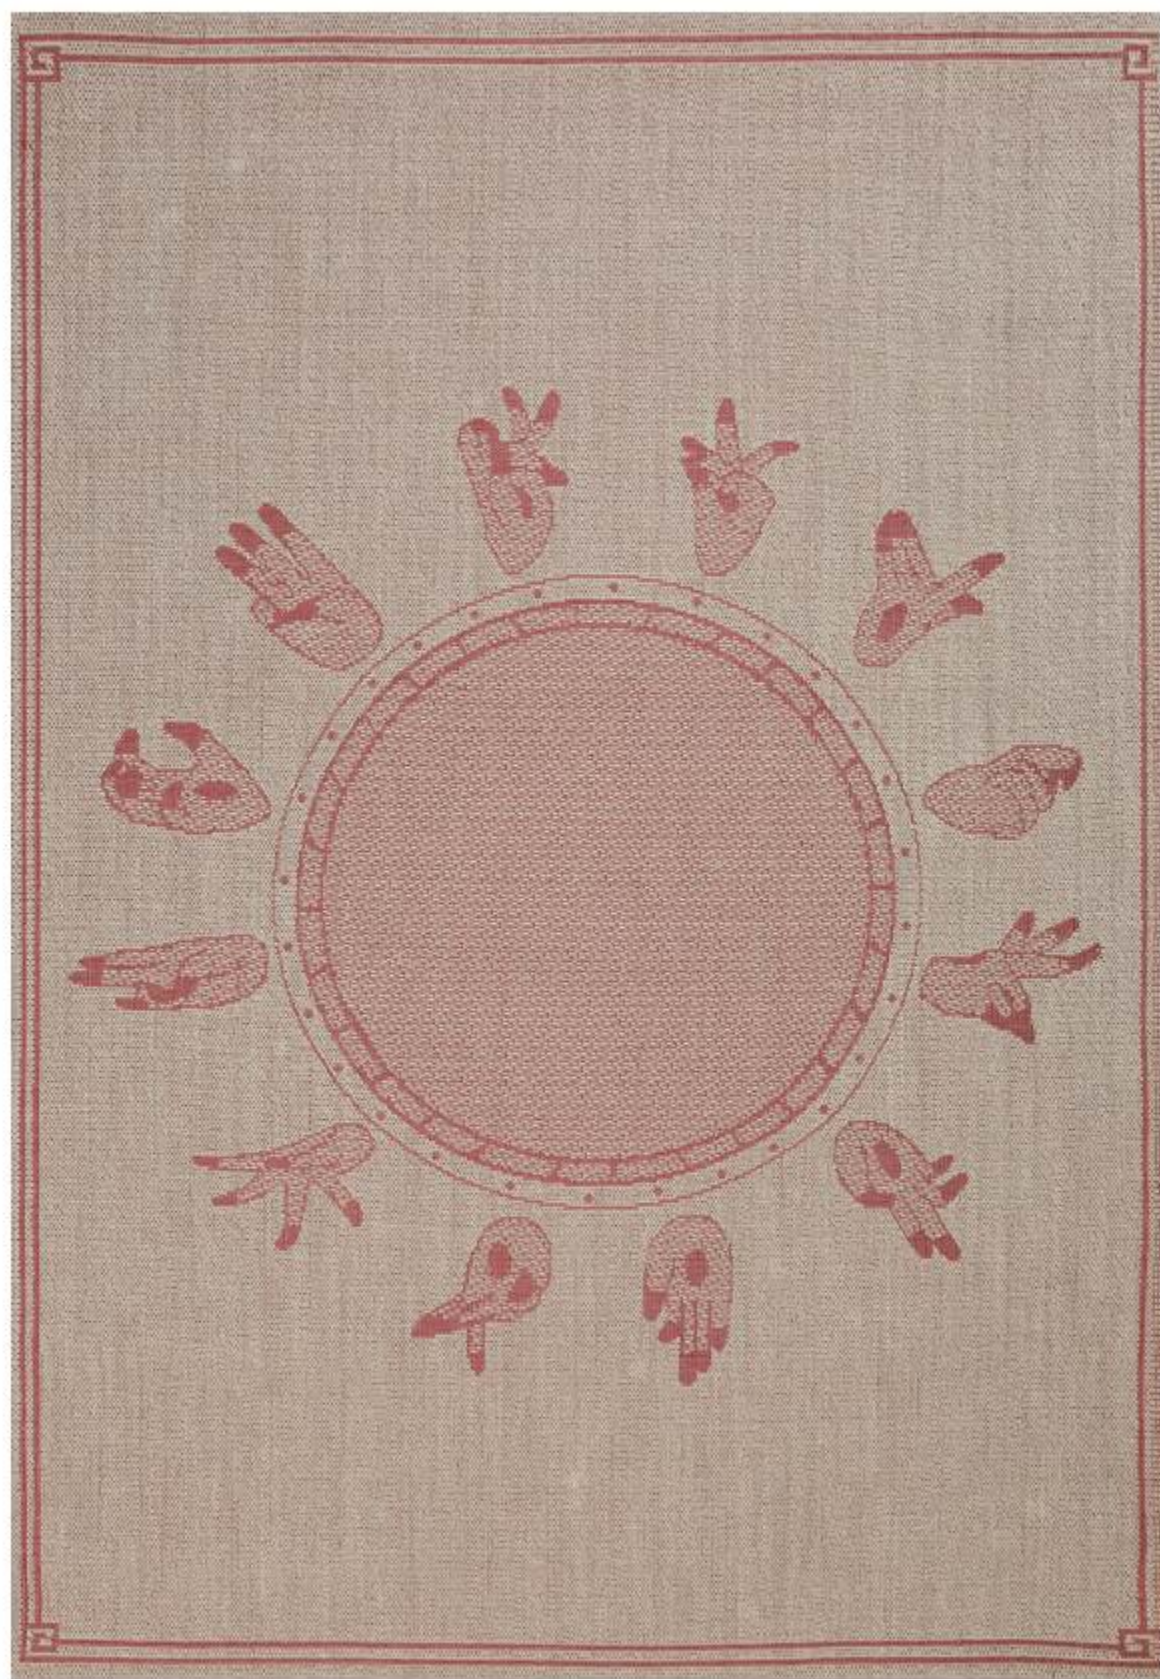

Technique : Jacquard

Thickness : 5 mm

Nattyam, meaning dance, celebrates the storytelling power and sacred rhythm of Indian classical movement. The rug is framed by arches reminiscent of temple niches, each window offering a glimpse into a world of silent poetry. Its three mudras, Katakamukha, Kapitha, and Bhramara, trace the arc of the dancer's journey: from preparation and adornment, through devotion and commitment, to the ecstatic exploration of movement and expression. Nattyam transforms any space into a sacred stage, where gesture, rhythm, and narrative flow together in a continuous, living performance

Prabhavam

42,660/-

Made with 100% Sisal

Colour : Beige & Red

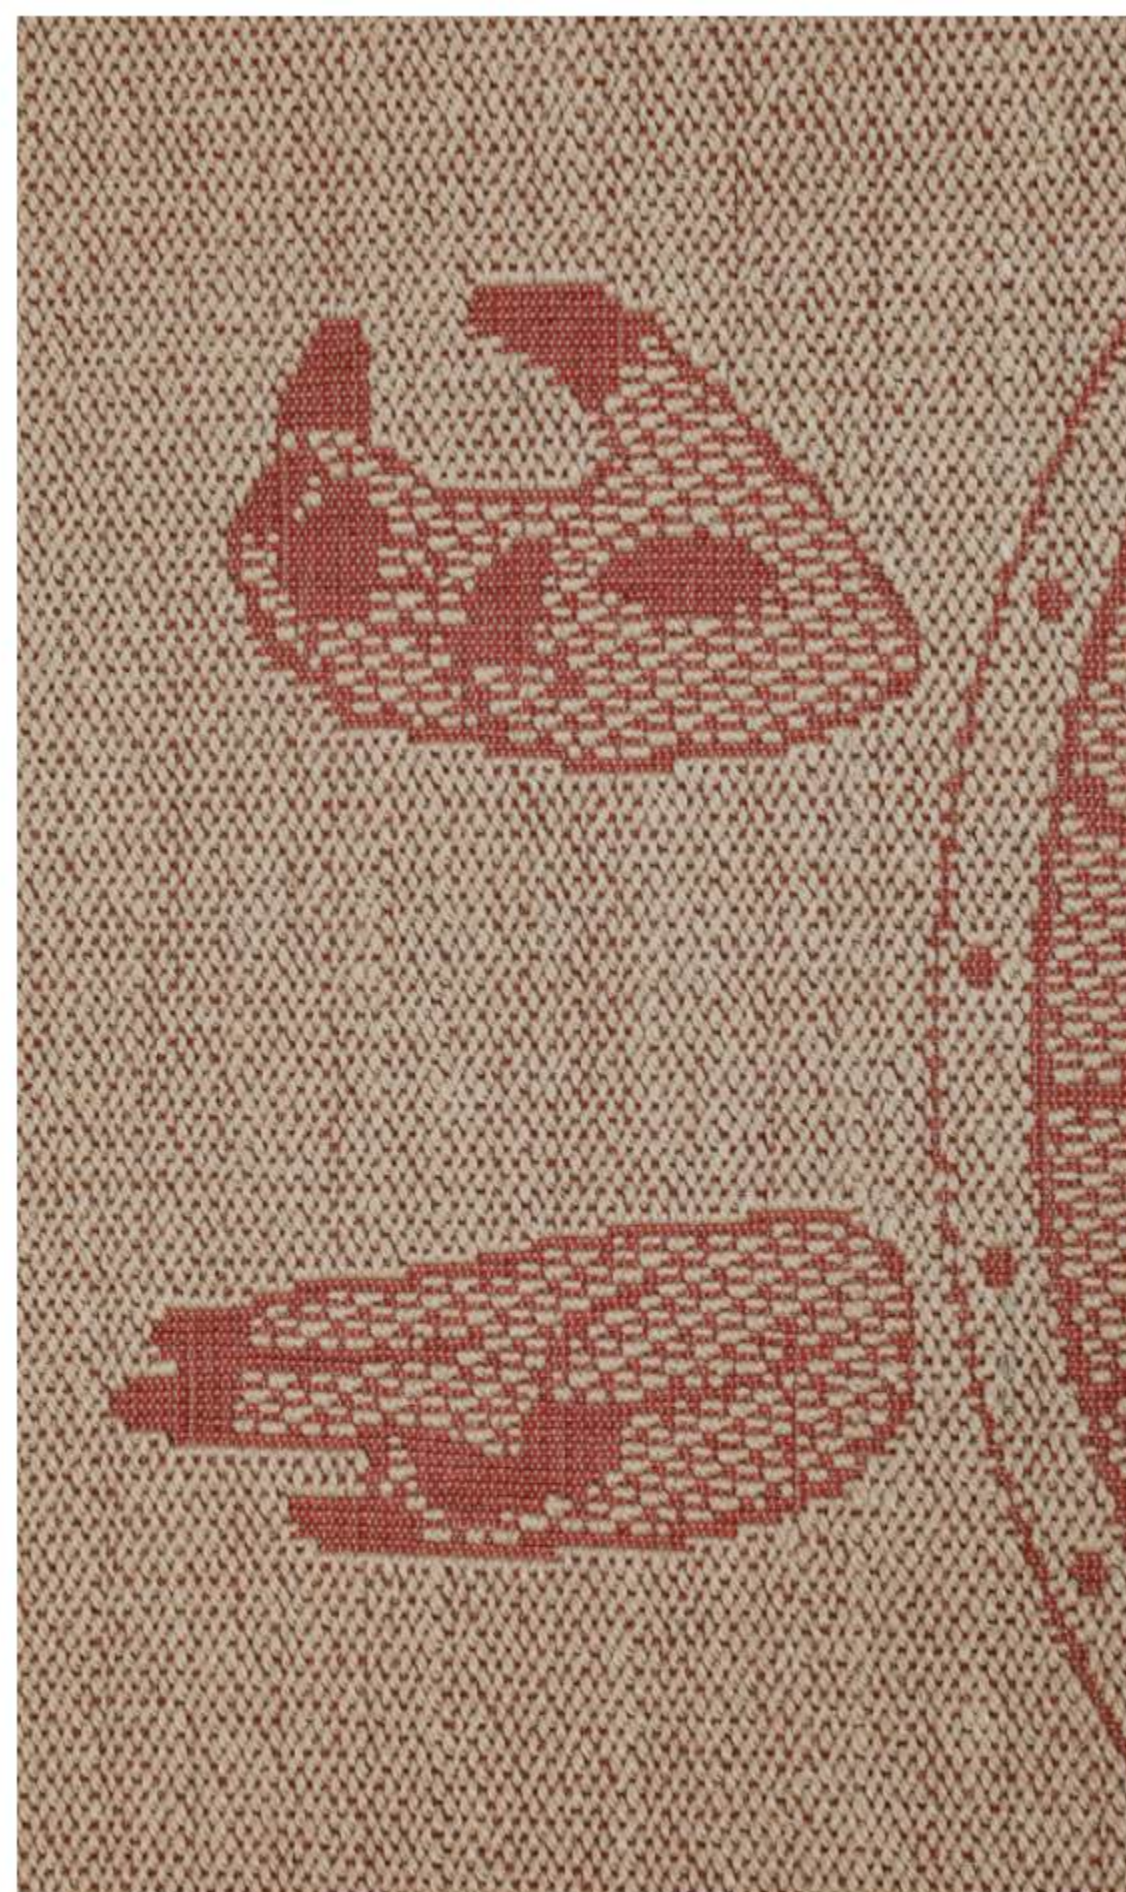

Size : 6ft X 9ft

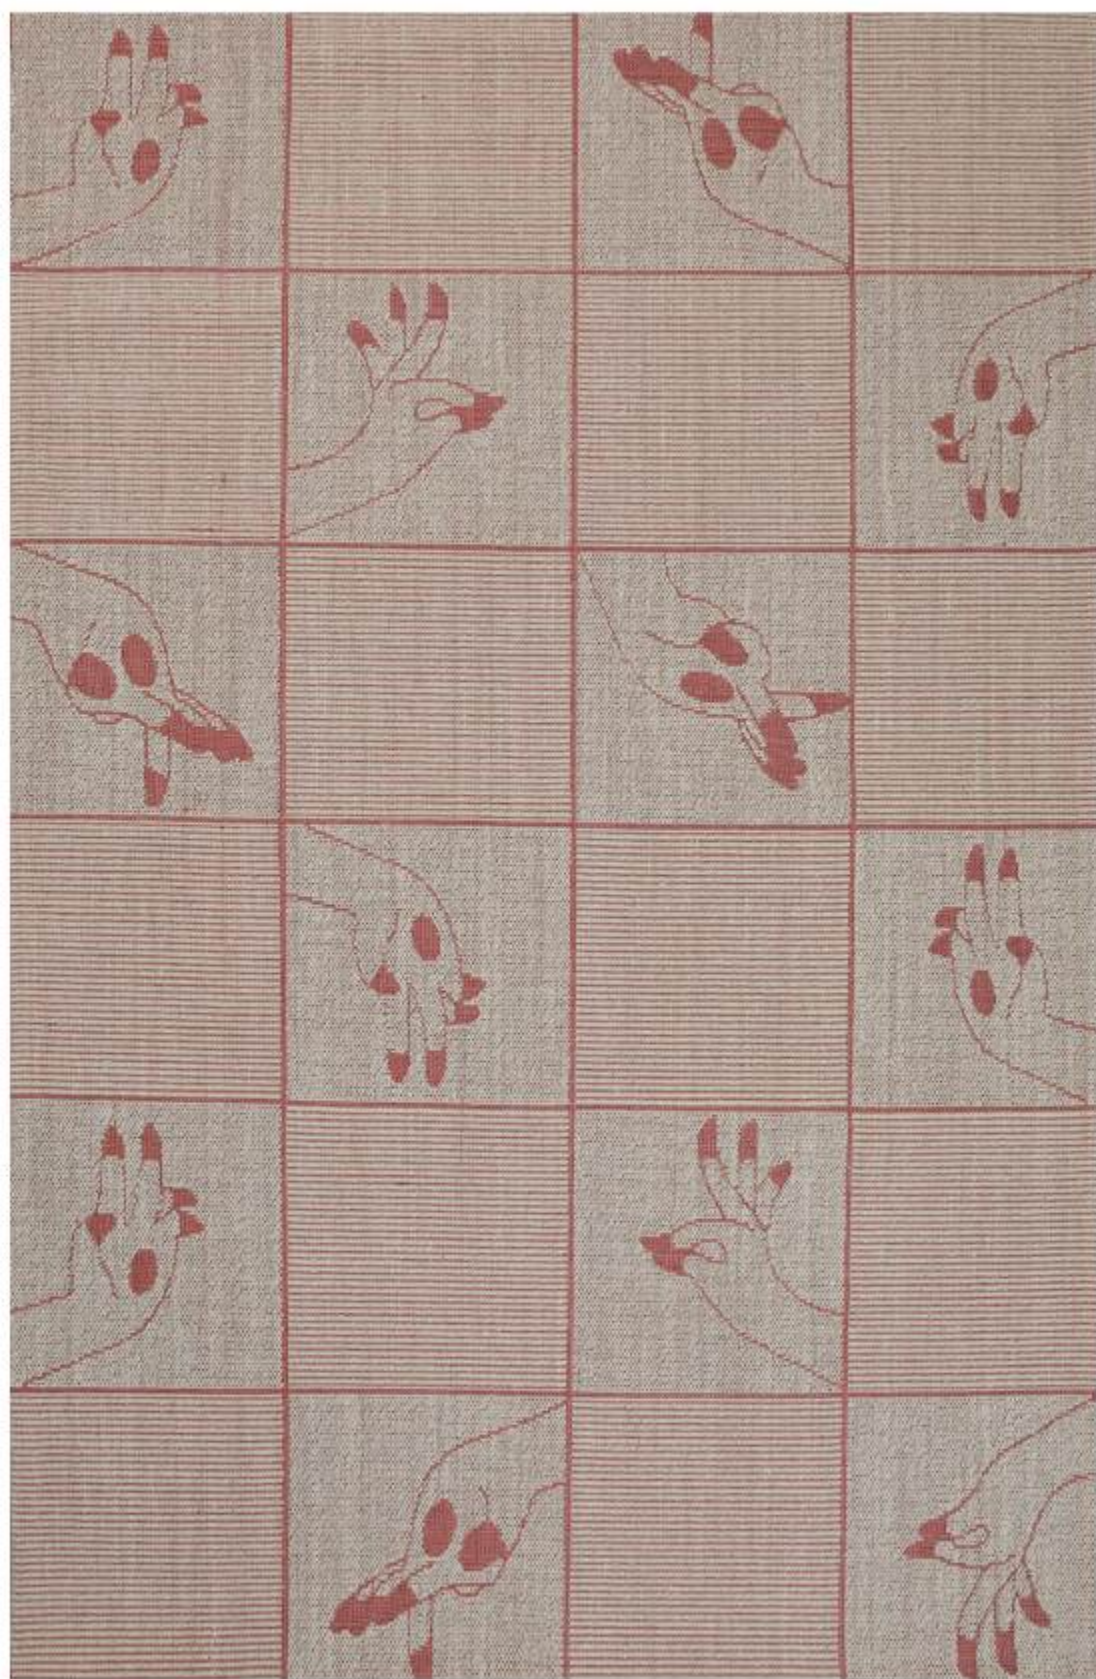

Technique : Jacquard

Thickness : 5 mm

Prabhavam, meaning radiance and origin, envisions mudras as rays of energy flowing from the dancer's heart. A red circle at the center symbolizes the core of being, while twelve gestures radiate outward like a cosmic mandala echoing the first dance of Shiva, the origin of dance itself. The rug celebrates stillness transforming into stories that illuminate the world

Samyuktha

42,660/-

Made with 100% Sisal

Colour : Beige & Red

Size : 6ft X 9ft

Technique : Jacquard

Thickness : 5 mm

Samyuktha reimagines classical dance mudras through a contemporary lens. The rug fragments a single hand gesture across a grid, inviting the viewer to actively piece together its movement. Inspired by tiled art and the rhythm of repetition, it transforms a solitary gesture into a visual narrative, yet each observer can create their own interpretation, combining mudras and inventing personal meanings. Samyuktha becomes an immersive stage for discovery, where stillness and motion coexist, and the dance unfolds uniquely for every eye.

Website : www.neytt.com
Instagram: neytt.extraweave
Email: Inquiry@neytt.com
Phone: +91 85900 17604 / +91 99956 49388
Store address: Neytt Homes, 356/357,
Sultanpur MG Road, New Delhi